

Certificate for Online Teaching and Learning

Certificate Description

The online teaching and learning certificate is a 20 credit hour program designed to provide students with the tools and knowledge to work in the field of online teaching and learning. The certificate may be earned as part of the Masters degree program or as a stand-alone graduate certificate.

Students seeking the graduate certificate should consult the Admission, Enrollment, Academic Policies, and Graduate Certificates sections of this catalog for information regarding application, admission, registration, and the academic policies of Webster University.

Requirements:

Certificate for Online Teaching and Learning
Course Categories	Courses
Design Core (12 hours)	EDTC 5460 - Curriculum Design Technology (3 hours)
	EDTC 5465 - Instructional Design (2 hours)
	EDTC 5840 - Designing an Online Curriculum (3 hours)
	EDTC 5820 - Designing an Online Course Part I (2 hours)
	EDTC 5825 - Designing an Online Course Part II (2 hours)
Technological Core (5 hours)	EDTC 5830 - Video Conferencing for Educators (3 hours)
	EDTC 5633 - Adult Learning and Technology (2 hours)
Electives (3 hours) Choose one from list	EDTC 5338 - Evaluating Emerging Technologies (3 hours)
	EDTC 5340 - Modeling Data to Enhance Instruction (3 hours)
	EDTC 5637 - Systemic Change Theory & Technology (3 hours)
	EDTC 5900 - Technology, Ethics, and Society (3 hours)
TOTAL HOURS
20	